LA PRENSA DENOUNCES ANTI-CASTRO TRAINING CAMPS

Havana Domestic Service in Spanish 1800 GMT 22 October 1964--F

(Text) New counterrevolutionary military training activities in Latin American camps are denounced today in the paper LA PRENSA, of Managua, Nicaragua. The report points out that supply centers in Nicaragua and Costa Rica are distributed along the Caribbean coast, principally in the towns surrounding Prinzapolca, in the Nicaraguan Department of Zelaya, where more than 200 mercenaries are being trained. Francisco Gamboa, a newsman, recently said that a network of training centers for mercenaries have been established throughout Costa Rica, such as in Sarapiquí and in the plantation belonging to Viko Schtarke, a nazi leader who commands a private fascist army.

For its part, the Costa Rican magazine LIBERTAD charges that the counter-revolutionaries born in Cuba are using the port of Tortuguero to bring in weapons and military equipment and that it is also being used to introduce contraband into Costa Rica. Some weeks ago the weekly charged that two Mustang P-51 short-range planes had been acquired by these elements through the CIA in order to attack Costa Rica and blame Cuba for the aggression.
